

The Newsmagazine Foodservice Professionals Read

Balti-MORE

Here a Grano, There a Grano

by Dara Bunjon

Back row left to right: Gino Troia, Marc Dettori
Seated left to right: Julie Padilla, Brian Little, Allison Hofmann

Grano Pasta Bars owners Gino Troia and Julie Padilla gathered with staff for an open house at their new addition, Grano Pasta Bar on Chestnut Avenue in Hampden. It was a chance to show off the products that they serve clientele from artisan Italian suppliers, local resources such as Springfield Farms to humanely raised beef and lamb from Strauss Brands. The original Grano Pasta Bar on 36th Street recently renovated giving it a fresh Tuscan look and they are looking forward to expansion to the 2nd floor by summer.

Grano Pasta Bar on Chestnut (grande)
3547 Chestnut Avenue
Baltimore, MD 21211
443-438-7521

Grano Pasta Bar on 36th Street (piccolo)
1031 West 36th Street.
Baltimore, MD 21211
443-869-3429

www.granopastabar.com

Dara Does It services include Public Relations, Media Services, Freelance Writing, Marketing, Special Events, Sales and Product Development. Contact Dara at 410-486-0339, info@dara-does-it.com or visit on the Web at www.dara-does-it.com